Feb. 6, 2025 | 5:30-7:30pm | Oakstop, 1721 Broadway #201, Oakland

This one-hour introductory lecture by faculty from the Incremental Development Alliance is designed to help aspiring and current small-scale developers. Whether you're an experienced professional or a curious newcomer, this session will explain how we can support your success in small-scale development.

We will also share future training opportunities, answer questions, provide light networking time to help build connections, and present core concepts such as:

- Highlight why small-scale development is a unique and accessible opportunity.
- Guide you on how to get started and take the first steps as a small-scale developer.
- Share the resources available to help you achieve success, including scholarships and fee waivers for future trainings.
- Answer questions and provide light networking opportunities.

We are also offering a full-day workshop that will dive much more deeply into small-scale development on March 7, 2025. Scholarships and/or fee waivers will be available to ensure cost is not a barrier to participation. See details and register here: <https://bit.ly/4am8EBz>
